A note from the School Health Nurse

Government of Western Australia
WA Country Health Service

School health services in primary schools

When children feel well, they learn better.
That's why we have community health nurses in schools.

Community health nurses work with families and school staff to support your child's health and development.

What the nurse can help with:

- Health checks for vision, hearing, growth, and development
- Support for parents about health and parenting
- Care plans for children with health needs while they are at school
- Referrals to other health services if needed
- A friendly place to ask questions about your child's health

In primary school

You'll be asked to fill out a health form in kindy or pre-primary.

With your permission, the nurse will check your child's:

- Vision
- Hearing
- Growth
- General development

You'll get a summary of the check.

If anything needs following up, the nurse will contact you.

Enuresis (bedwetting) program

Bedwetting is common — and it can be treated. A bedwetting program is available for children aged five and a half to 18 years old who wet the bed more than twice a week.

- The program runs for six to eight weeks
- You and your child meet with the nurse every two weeks
- Your child learns how to stay dry at night
- Parents get support and tips to help at home

You will need a GP referral for the program.

Worried about your child's health?

You or your child's teacher can ask the nurse to do a health check at any time.

Student arrangements for pick up and drop off

Parents are reminded that ANY changes to student pick-up or drop-off arrangements need to be communicated by the parent or caregiver via the student diary, email tammin.ps@education.wa.edu.au or via the office 9623 4080.

If there is no written or verbal communication from a parent or caregiver changing arrangements for their own children then:

- Bus children will be sent home on the bus as usual.
- All other children will be kept in the school office until their parent or caregiver has been contacted.

It is the responsibility of the parent or caregiver to notify the bus driver of any changes to bus pick-up or drop-off.

Set up good attendance habits

Going to school every day helps children learn more and achieve more. Help your children develop good attendance habits and get the most out of school.
